Scent Fair LA

Scent Fair LA
Ongoing, biennial
Craft Contemporary, Los Angeles
Curated by Darin Klein, Saskia Wilson-Brown, Andres Payan

Scent Fair LA is a biennial, international celebration of Artisan, Independent and Experimental scent practices. The first event took place in 2016 at Hammer Museum, and continued in 2018 at the Craft and Folk Art Museum. In 2023, after a Covid-induced hiatus, we return to Los Angeles, joining our friends at Craft Contemporary on Wilshire Blvd. in the heart of the museum district.

Scent Fair LA aims to introduce new audiences to the world of highly conceptual scents. In addition to a curated selection of cutting-edge fragrance makers exhibiting and selling their work, the fair includes a number of related programs includes hands-on workshops, an opening night party with special guest DJs, and more.

PAST EDITIONS

The 4th Scent Fair LA
May 30 – June 1, 2025
Craft Contemporary in Los Angeles

Scent Fair LA held the fourth edition between May 30 – June 1, 2025, at Craft Contemporary in Los Angeles, CA.

Scent Fair LA is an international celebration that aims to introduce new audiences to the world of highly conceptual scents. In addition to a curated selection of cutting-edge fragrance makers exhibiting and selling their work, the fair includes hands-on workshops, a keynote talk, and a rollicking opening night party.

Taking place in Craft Contemporary's outdoor courtyard, Scent Fair LA is organized and produced by Darin Klein & Friends, the Institute for Art and Olfaction, and Craft Contemporary.

Scent Fair LA 2025 is also part of Scent Week LA 2025 which encompasses the 11th edition of the Art and Olfaction Awards along with other city-wide events to be announced.
